Introduction

This one-day workshop is designed to provide delegates with an excellent starting point in understanding Lean Manufacturing and how it can be applied simply to your business. It provides all delegates with the opportunity to understand how print facilities can set up a fundamental improvement process and structured and standardised methodologies which will be aimed at eliminating waste, reducing costs and increasing efficiency.

Target group

This workshop is aimed at any manager or employee who is responsible for improving the performance of the organisation and would like to learn the fundamentals of Lean Manufacturing with a potential pilot project.

Trainer

George Donaldson is the Group Continuous Improvement Manager for Newsprinters, the Manufacturing Division of News International.

He is responsible for the implementation and facilitation of Continuous Improvement and Best Practice

Processes and activities, including the successful implementation of ISO 9001:2008 (Quality), ISO 14001:2004 (Environment) and BS OHSAS 18001:2007 (Health and Safety) at all three sites.

George is a TPM and RCM practitioner and is currently leading the implementation of TPM throughout the Newsprinters Group.

2005 – 2007 Continuous Improvement Manager – Toronto Star, Canada’s Largest Daily Newspaper.
